

Survey of U.S. Likely Voters April 3 – 8, 2024

N = 1,688 U.S. likely general election voters

The sample has an adjusted margin of error of +/-2.7 percentage points

See <http://uml.edu/polls> for full questionnaire/topline results and detailed methodology disclosure.

Survey design and analysis by John Cluverius, director of survey research, University of Massachusetts Lowell Center for Public Opinion.

...approve of the job Biden is doing as president, while 59%
...of respondents (52%) view the sitting president unfavorably
...him. Comparatively, 44% of respondents view Trump favorably
...favorably.

...Biden voters each say they will definitely vote for their preferred
...each major party candidate's supporters say they could change their

2. Voters Aren't Seeing the Recovery

Despite mostly positive news, voters aren't seeing the effects of the economic recovery. More than half (54%) say it's become much or somewhat harder in the last six months for them to pay for basic necessities. Comparatively, just one in 10 (11%) say affording the basics has eased much or somewhat. A third, (35%) report their budgets holding steady.

Respondents earning less than $50,000 per year are having a particularly tough time; 64% say things are getting harder for them compared to 45% of respon (n)6 (g)2 tparnr a01 9gr (e)3 (w1pEdh[s)6 (ng)1B0 Td)16 ((-16. D

More than half (52%) of likely voters say they strongly (40%) or somewhat (12%) oppose full pardons for those arrested at the U.S. Capitol Jan. 6, 2021,