number is down from 72% yesterday. The lack of certainty among other candidates, notably 50% of Bush supporters, 51% of Christie supporters, 73% of Carson supporters and 51% of Paul supporters say they “could change their mind,” leaves considerable ambiguity about whether Republicans will ultimately coalesce behind one or two challengers to Donald Trump, or whether their votes will be diffused across several candidates. Iowa offers a clarifying mechanism for suggesting such changes and we will be paying close attention to these changes in the day ahead.
